Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

7. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

8. In response to applicant's amendments the 101 rejection of claims 25-26 has been withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Response to Arguments

13.Applicant's arguments received on 06 October 2009 have been fully considered.

14.In response to applicant's argument that Halvorson, Allen and Kaufman are nonanalogous art, it has been held that a prior art reference must either be in the field of applicant's endeavor or, if not, then be reasonably pertinent to the particular problem with which the applicant was concerned, in order to be relied upon as a basis for rejection of the claimed invention. See In re Oetiker, 977

F.2d 1443, 24 USPQ2d 1443 (Fed. Cir. 1992). Further, Examiner points out that the cited prior art does effectively disclose the corresponding limitations.

15. Applicant argues for the allowability of claims 1, 17 & 25 because the prior Office Action fails to teach claim language that was added to independent claims 1, 17 & 25. Examiner points out that this claim language has been added and is addressed in this Office Action.

16. Applicant's arguments with respect to added claims 25-26 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

17. As per claims 2-16 applicant makes arguments based on dependency on claim 1 and are rejected for on the same grounds.

18. As per claims 18-23 applicant makes arguments based on dependency on claim 17 and are rejected for on the same grounds.

19. As per claims 8 applicant makes arguments based on dependency on claim 1 and are rejected for on the same grounds.

20. As per claims 22 applicant makes arguments based on dependency on claim 17 and are rejected for on the same grounds.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
